

DROP GROUCH AND ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL SUNDAY

Record Breaking Crowd Expected By Officials of County Sunday School Association on the State's Big Day.

Have you decided fully to go to Sunday school next Sunday? Or are you one of those grouchily individuals who is continuously and everlastingly opposing any movement that is for the general good? Perhaps you are one of that crowd who brings out that old question every Go-To-Sunday-School-day "What's the good of all this hurrah to get folks to go to Sunday school for just one day?" Well, we are heartily sorry for such folks. If they would take a moment to investigate they would find that this great forward movement in Kentucky's Sunday schools has come about largely by getting folks who do not attend regularly to visit Sunday school on Go-to-Sunday-School-Day.

Every year hundreds and hundreds of new members are added to the permanent roll of Kentucky's Sunday schools. They have found out that the great good the schools are doing and that the school sessions are helpful and very pleasant to attend.

Let every man, woman, boy and girl, and even to the cradle roll babies attend next Sunday. Go with an open mind—willing to be shown what there really is in the movement. If this is done we venture to predict the largest permanent increase in the history of Mason county's Sunday schools.

MRS. WOOD SURPRISED BY HER BIBLE CLASS.

Mrs. Clarence Wood was surprised by a large and enthusiastic visit to her home from her Bible class Wednesday night. Dr. Barbour had been deputed to speak a few words of welcome and felicitation on the recognition she had received on her recent visit to Houston and Austin, Texas, and Los Angeles, Calif., in social and civic circles. At the latter place she spoke from the same platform as Ex-Secretary McAdoo. Dr. Barbour attended to these honors which he said did not surprise her friends here, as also to her winning of the prize for the state poem making her virtually poet-laureate of our state. Her friends here, he said, would still hold that they knew her best and greatest as teacher of the Word to the class which has gathered about her and holds her in such admiration. The skill and tact and personal charm which had given her such success was spoken of. Mrs. Wood was then called upon to give some account of her visit. In an informal, but very delightful manner, she told of experiences in the cities mentioned and enlarged upon the wonderful canon of the Colorado where she spent a day. After simple refreshments, provided by the class, the happy company adjourned to their homes.

Maysville High School Commencement will be held this year during the week of June 11th.

LEADER OF GANG WHICH BROKE JAIL IS UNDER ARREST

Ernest Jones, Under Arrest at Lexington, Admits He Overpowered Local Jail Turnkey Permitting Prisoners to Escape.

Ernest Jones, forger, who confesses that he was the leader of the jail delivery at the Mason county jail last February, is under arrest at Lexington on a grand larceny charge and local officials have made arrangements to have Jones returned here when he was satisfied the charges against him in Fayette county.

Jones was arrested by a Lexington detective on Main street in Lexington Tuesday night when he was endeavoring to sell two stolen automobile tires. In the Lexington City Court Wednesday he was given thirty days jail sentences on two charges of petit larceny and was held to the Fayette county grand jury on a charge of grand larceny.

To Lexington officers Jones confessed that he was the leader of the gang which broke jail in Maysville last February. He says he overpowered and held Turnkey Howard until the other prisoners had escaped through the "Z" door of the jail. It will be remembered that the turnkey was struck a terrific blow on the side of the head which knocked him unconscious when he opened the door and stooped to pick up a letter which Jones had asked him to mail.

Jones was originally arrested on a charge of forging a check and passing the same at the Galanty & Son clothing store here.

NEW MUSIC ARRIVES FOR CARDINAL BAND

Many New Hits Presented to Band—Popular Program For Season To Be Large.

It was a great sight Wednesday night to see the manager bring up to the band room a bushel basket of popular new music, given to him by the publishers for the use of the Kentucky Cardinal Band this season.

Hendrickson said it was a sight to see the Big Toledo Band at Columbus having a trunk of music at the fair but if it keeps on the Cardinals will each have to have a trunk of their own to carry the music this summer.

Some of the popular pieces tried out Wednesday night were as follows: "Say It With Music," "Tuck Me to Sleep in My Old Tucky Home," "Granny," "Just a Little Song," "Everybody Step," "Poor Little Me," "Come Sunny Day," "You Can Have Every Light on Broadway" (give me that little light at home) "On the Gin Gin Gin Shore," "I Want My Mama," "Time After Time," "Here Comes Dinah," "While Miami Dreams," "When Shall We Meet Again," "Yoo Hoo," "California," "Lola Lo," "My Mammy Knows," "Pick Me Up and Lay Me Down," "In Dear Old Dixie Land," "By the Sapphire Sea," "Ten Little Fingers and Ten Little Toes," "Three O'Clock in the Morning," "Stealing," "Ty-Tee Swanee River Moon."

Some did not arrive but it's on the way. We will have all the popular pieces this season. Think what this means to the community and the fair the hand plays.

JOHN J. ALTMAYER, EDITOR OF BULLETIN, DIED AT NOON TODAY

Local Newspaper Editor Died Rather Suddenly at Noon Thursday—Had Been in Bad Health for About a Year.

John J. Altmeyer, editor of the Bulletin, died at his home on Riverview Terrace, shortly after noon Thursday following an illness extending over a period of about a year.

Although in bad health for about twelve months, Mr. Altmeyer had been much worse during the past three weeks. On Thursday morning, however, he appeared better than he had been for several days and shortly before noon told members of his family at his bedside that he desired to take a nap and asked them to leave the room. They left but Mrs. Altmeyer returned in a short time and found him dying.

Mrs. Altmeyer was 58 years of age and is survived by his wife and five sisters, Mrs. Frank Devine, Mrs. Frank Burgoyne, Mrs. Charles Traxel, and Miss Maggie Altmeyer of this city, and Mrs. Albert Huff, of Huntington, W. Va. His only son died five years ago and since the death of this only son, to whom Mr. Altmeyer was greatly attached, he has been steadily declining in health.

At the age of 13 years, forty-five years ago, Mr. Altmeyer obtained employment at the Bulletin office learning the printers' trade. For years he was foreman of the newspaper office and at the death of Colonel George Rosser, in 1905, he purchased a half interest in the business and since that time has been associated with Mr. M. J. McCarthy in the newspaper's publication.

Mr. Altmeyer was interested in civic affairs and was a director of the Mason county Health League.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the home with services by Rev. J. J. P. Perry, rector of the Church of the Nativity, and burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

Mrs. Altmeyer requests flowers be omitted.

NINE MILLIONS TO BE PAID GROWERS ON MAY TWENTIETH

Second Payment To Be Made By Tobacco Pool on Saturday, May 20th, Will Be Approximately Nine Millions of Dollars.

Lexington, Ky., May 4.—Growers of tobacco in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, who are members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, will receive May 20 another payment of approximately $9,000,000 on their crops which they delivered to receiving plants of the association, the second payment to be of the same amount as the first, according to the decision of the board of directors of the association, in session at the offices here Wednesday.

The manner of delivery of the checks to the growers is left to the director in each district, to whom all the checks for growers in his district will be sent.

It is expected to make Saturday, May 20, a day of jollification in the district, with speeches at public meetings in most cases, followed by the delivery of the checks to the growers.

These details, however, are left to the discretion of the director in each district and no uniform method of delivery has as yet been agreed upon. Each director will announce to the county papers the time and method of distribution to be followed in his district.

HUMAN PROGRESS

Mr. Edward E. Slosson in discussing in a recent article some theories of human progress, such as the formula of Henry Adams who predicted that intellectual development, according to his "law of squares," would reach its ultimate limit in 1921, states a principle which is sound as far as it goes, and worthy of consideration. He says:

"A new fact discovered is only one fact more. But two new facts if put together may have the power of four, and three new facts combined may be the equal of nine single facts, and the fourth and fifth facts may perchance lead to a law that will give us a thousand undiscovered facts at once without the trouble of hunting them up singly. That is what science consists of—putting two and two together in such a way that they make more than four."

If the law holds, then civilization should advance at an increasingly rapid rate, and, it would appear, there can be no bounds to the progress of the race.

But what does the term civilization embrace and connote? The mere discovery of facts about the universe, the multiplication of inventions, the contriving of new machines, the increase in the number of conveniences with which we surround ourselves, the mastery of the air, the subjugation of nature and her energies, the accumulation of wealth and the indefinite expansion of all man's intellectual powers can not exhaust the meaning of the word civilization.

The trouble with the world today is that men have mistaken scientific progress for genuine human development, which must necessarily include moral progression as well as material improvement.

Those philosophers who hold that there is no continuous progress, but that humanity passes through cycles of advance and retrogression, of growth followed by decay, have history to support their views. It has been so with nations since civilization was initiated, and there are as many modern as there are ancient exemplifications of the truth.

"Eternity was on the pyramid,
And immortality on Greece and Rome;
But in them all the ancient traitor hid,
And so they tottered like unstable foam."

The moral factors being neglected and spiritual laws violated history will repeat again and again the tragic story of the past.

Man must learn to subdue himself, to obey the divine law, to organize his social life so that justice shall prevail, to abolish racial antipathies and national animosities, to equalize conditions, to guarantee a fair opportunity to every individual, to substitute cooperation for competition, and to make reason and righteousness the universal law before humanity can advance continuously without relapses and periods of decay.

BOYS SUGGESTED AS OATS AND CORN ACREAGE DROPS.

Lexington, Ky. — A considerable decrease in the oats acreage of Kentucky and a probable decrease in the corn acreage probably will follow the late wet spring experienced in the state this year, it is said at the College of Agriculture. Much land left vacant by these conditions, especially that of a worn, thin nature, can be used to good advantage for growing soybeans for hay, according to Ralph Kenney, a crops extension specialist. This crop not only improves the land but make as good nitrogenous feed, he said. Soybeans, however, leave the soil in a loose condition and unless some fall-sown crop, such as wheat, barley or rye is used after them, the land is apt to wash badly, it was pointed out.

The STATE NATIONAL BANK
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

NATION'S WELFARE DEPENDENT ON AMERICAN MARINE.

Washington, D. C. — Replying to an inquiry by a correspondent of the New York Herald, opposing a ship subsidy, "Why should I, in my business, be asked to contribute to another business with which I have nothing to do and which cannot benefit me?" the Republican Publicity Association says: "The writer apparently believes there is only one answer to his question — that he should not be asked to make such a contribution. Such a reply would be the natural one if the premises of the question were correct, namely, that a man not in the shipping business has nothing to do with a merchant marine, nor is it of any benefit to him. But the opposite is the truth, an dhat is the reason why the Harding Administration favors, and the Republican Congress is going to pass, a subsidy bill that will keep the American flag on the seas. It is not the Republican policy to legislate for any privileged class, and the subsidy bill is not designed for the special favor of ship owners and operators, but it is intended for the welfare of the nation as a whole.

"Every citizen of this country has as great and as direct an interest in the maintenance of an American merchant marine as he has in any other element that contributes to national safety and prosperity. Our taxpayers contribute some $400,000,000 a year for the support of a navy, and almost as much more for the upkeep of an army. The merchant marine subsidy calls for a maximum payment of about $30,000,000 annually, and yet ships of commerce in time of war, whether overseas or nearer home, are as vital to success as the navy or army. In the World War more than half of our men and supplies were transported in British vessels, and even in the Spanish-American war we were forced to purchase merchant ships from Great Britain. In both instances we were compelled to depend on foreign sources for the essentials of warfare. In the matter of preparedness alone, the country will derive many times the value of the subsidy that insures us a merchant fleet available in the time of need.

"The flag that carries our commerce the cheapest is the one that will get the business," declared the Herald correspondent, the inference being that America should make no effort to meet foreign competition in the matter of ocean freight rates. Precisely the same argument could be applied to every other industry in which our citizens are engaged. Scarcely a product that is manufactured abroad but can be imported into the United States and sold at a price that will soon put American producers out of business. If it is sound economics to permit for-designers to do our ocean carrying business for us, it is equally sound to let them monopolize our commercial markets and sell us everything we need.

But we would then be a dependent nation, absolutely at the mercy of alien profiteers.

"The Republican policy is opposed to any such surrender. American production is to be protected and American standards of living are to be maintained through a tariff that will compensate for the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. By precisely the same economic reasoning the difference in the cost of operating a merchant marine at home and abroad is to be met through a subsidy from the Federal Treasury. Then American operators can make sufficient profit to warrant them in keeping their capital in ships, and the American exporter will always be assured of a vessel in which to transport his goods, free from the whims of foreign owners. The value of that independence in ocean shipping is impossible to estimate, and depends on the effect of future international relations on the supply of ships, but in any case it is cheap at the price we are to pay."

If present plans materialize, Daviess county this fall will have a strictly agricultural fair that will not be run for profits, according to a report of County Agent J. W. Whitehouse. Plans and sold at a price that will soon put American producers out of business. If it is sound economics to permit for-

USE OF EXPLOSIVES IN AMERICA SHOWS CONSIDERABLE DROP

More Than Thirty Per Cent. Less Explosives Used in America in 1921 Than During the Preceding Twelve Months.

Washington, D. C. — The quantity of explosives used in the United States during the calendar year 1921 was lower by more than 30 per cent. than the amount consumed in 1920, according to the Bureau of Mines. Reports received by the bureau show that the total sales amounted to 373,107,593 pounds, as compared with 537,354,750 pounds the year before. Of the total amount sold 160,021,250 pounds (43.0 per cent.) was black blasting powder, 170,952,402 pounds (45.9 per cent.) "high" explosives other than permissible explosives, and 41,133,851 pounds (11.1 per cent.) permissible explosives. As compared with the preceding year these figures indicate a reduction of 37.2 per cent. in sales of black powder, 25.4 per cent. in "high" explosives, and 23.8 per cent. in permissibles. Permissible explosives are those which, because of having passed certain tests prescribed by the Bureau of Mines, are considered reasonably safe for use in gaseous and dusty coal mines. The coal-mining industry is always the largest consumer of black powder and permissible explosives, the consumption usually comprising about 85 per cent. of the entire amount manufactured. In 1921 the coal mines used 5,613,435 kegs or 140,335,875 pounds of black powder, 34,231,542 pounds of "high" explosives and 38,055,650 pounds of permissibles, representing decreases of 36 per cent., 8 per cent., and 16 per cent., respectively, as compared with 1920.

Metal mining and all other mining operations (excluding coal) used 184,792 kegs or 4,619,800 pounds of black powder, 50,977,366 pounds of "high" explosives, and 881,710 pounds of permissibles, indicating decreases of 47 per cent., 43 per cent., and 76 per cent., respectively, below the year 1920.

Railroad and other construction work was the only branch of industry using a large quantity of any kind of explosives than in 1920. This class of work consumed 18,317,333 pounds of dynamite and other high explosives as compared with 15,052,808 pounds the year before, but there was practically no change in the quantity of permissibles, while the consumption of black powder declined from 196,172 kegs in 1920 to 163,688 kegs in 1921.

The quantity of explosives used for all other purposes fell off 49 per cent. for black powder, 59 per cent. for permissibles, and 23 per cent. for other high explosives.

Pennsylvania, as usual, was by far the leading state in the consumption of explosives, having used 21,458,135 pounds of permissible explosives, 37,809,025 pounds of high explosives other than permissible, and 1,394,869 kegs of black blasting powder. West Virginia was second in the use of permissible explosives, with a consumption of 6,740,025 pounds; Illinois was third, with 3,169,854 pounds; and Alabama was fourth, with 2,580,053 pounds. In the use of high explosives other than permissible, Michigan, with a consumption of 11,745,511 pounds, ranked second to Pennsylvania; California was third, with 11,255,854 pounds; New York was fourth, with 8,347,810 pounds; Minnesota was fifth with 6,550,371 pounds; and Missouri was sixth, with 6,127,477 pounds. Illinois ranked next to Pennsylvania in the consumption of black blasting powder, having used 1,316,334 kegs.

SEASONAL TIPS FOR GARDENERS.

Early blight, which is highly destructive to early potatoes, may be controlled by spraying the plants with Bordeaux mixture when they are from six to eight inches high.

About May 1 is the time to sow the wrinkled-seeded varieties of peas. Planting them about two and one-half or three inches deep is said to prolong the bearing period.

In placing cabbage, tomato, egg plants or any other plants that are set in the garden, it is best to keep the ground level, according to gardeners at the College of Agriculture. This brings the roots of the plants nearer the water table and prevents excessive evaporation of moisture.

The Colorado potato beetle can be controlled by dusting the plants with Paris Green as soon as they come up. The dusting should be repeated as often as necessary.

This is the season of the year when it is necessary to keep the ground in good cultivation to prevent baking which often keeps many young plants from breaking through the soil. Much baking or crusting usually follows heavy rains.

In planting the large-growing varieties of peas, it is a good idea to plant two rows about eight to ten inches apart and then place the netting or sticks between the two. Economy in staking is thus made possible by making one row of netting serve two rows of peas.

The number of boys and girls enrolled for the poultry project in junior agricultural clubs of Fayette county for the coming year has been increased 50 per cent. over that of last year. County Agent W. R. Gabbert says. One hundred fifty youngsters will hatch from two to four settings of purebred hatching eggs furnished by interested poultry raisers of the county who are cooperating in furthering purebred poultry work.

NATURE TELLS YOU As Many a Maysville Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Nature tells you about it. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ask your neighbor. Maysville people testify to their worth. Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in a mighty bad shape the first time I used them. The secretions I passed were bloody and burned terribly. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple boxes of them. This medicine reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's ever since. I use a few now and then to regulate my kidneys and they never fail me."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LEVANNA YARDS IN BIG DEAL PENDING WITH COL. CALHOUN

Captain Oscar Barrett On Deal With Louisville Concern for Sale of Brown County Boat Yards and Large Tow Boats.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: A river deal involving the purchase of four powerful towboats, 40 to 50 barges, a large marine ways and plant at Levan, Ohio, and a stone quarry, was under negotiation yesterday between the Inland Navigation Company of Frankfort and Louisville, Ky., and Captain Oscar F. Barrett Towboat line. The deal was said last night to be in its early stages, and Captain Barrett declined to make any statement, except to say that a tentative offer had been made.

The offer was made a few days ago, according to Captain Barrett, by Colonel Patrick Calhoun, lawyer, promoter and politician, of San Francisco, who for many years was identified with the street railroad system of the California city, but who is a Kentuckian by birth. A short time ago Colonel Calhoun engineered a deal whereby he consolidated Beattyville coal properties with some interests he held at Frankfort, and formed the Inland Navigation Company, with a capital of $2,000,000. It is understood the Calhoun company plans to establish private terminals at Louisville and Jeffersonville, and also to put in a terminal at Cincinnati for the handling of coal and other commodities.

Several years ago the Calhoun interests bought Captain Barrett's interests in a coal tipple and river terminal on the Kentucky River near Frankfort. The Calhoun terminal will have no connection with the plans of the Chamber of Commerce for the privately owned crane and terminal for unloading steel and other heavy cargo which is planned for the foot of Harrison street, it is stated.

FLEMING'S LARGEST MAN DIES VERY SUDDENLY.

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat says:

Sant Hawkins, colored, probably the largest man in the county, weighing about 400 at the time of his death, but who had weighed up to 465, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. He had been living at Foxport and a woman named Emma Green had been living with him. She was coming to Flemingsburg and as he could not be left there alone they telephoned the Central Garage to send a truck for them. Sant got in and sat down, but before the truck started his head fell over on his shoulder, and death had claimed him. Sant was about 68 years old and had been an industrious, honorable citizen.

Maysville Gas Company $231,000.
Maysville Power Company $149,000.
Maysville Water Company, $100,000.
